

The handcrafted birdhouse behind the stone wall on the south side of the Square, was made by Barry, a local craftsman.

It will be a very nice home to a family of wrens or chickadees.

Count the caterpillars below to find out how many caterpillars a chickadee family could eat in one hour of caterpillars

Wow. They get hungry!

Black Capped Chickadee

"A single clutch of Carolina Chickadee chicks can feast on upward of 9,000 caterpillars in the weeks between hatching and taking flight." ~ Dr. Douglas Tallamy
